Information regarding Covid-19 and the tournament

We, the Lundaspelen office, are planning to realize Lundaspelen 2022 to the best of our abilities. However, given the current situation, we have not fully decided the format and size of the tournament. This means that we do not know how many referees we can accept this year and might have to accept a lot fewer referees than normal. Please do not book any tickets until you receive our confirmation of your participation.

For this reason, we will also be very strict on accepting referees that have not been to Lundaspelen before and they will only be accepted at a very late stage. Unfortunately, this could also put us in a situation where we have to turn down referees that has been here before. If this is the case, we will prioritize referees that have been here in recent years, and has overall made a good impression on us and the organization, and we will try to get a good mix between countries and ages.

Should anything change with the current Covid-19 restrictions in Sweden so that we cannot realize the tournament, we will not refund any booked tickets. Please keep this in mind when signing up for the tournament and booking your travels.

After registering, if your own country's Covid-19 restrictions change, or you for any other reason has changed your mind about participating, so that you cannot come to Lundaspelen, please notify us as soon as possible. Once again, we will not refund any booked tickets.

Upon arriving to Lundaspelen, please note we will adjust to the current Covid-19 recommendations given by the Swedish Public Health Organization, for example this would currently mean you cannot expect people around you to wear facemask and the restrictions for carrying out the tournament will be based on their recommendation.
